We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

THE FAIR - No. 22, was in many respects the best yet. Record crowds turned out; most commercial exhibits were good; the livestock auction was the hottest in the history of the fair; featured events came off well; folks were happy - there was no trouble on the grounds; but the professional night show was weak ... Did we say weak? It was lousy ... But don't go 'way. We'll have that straightened out by next year.

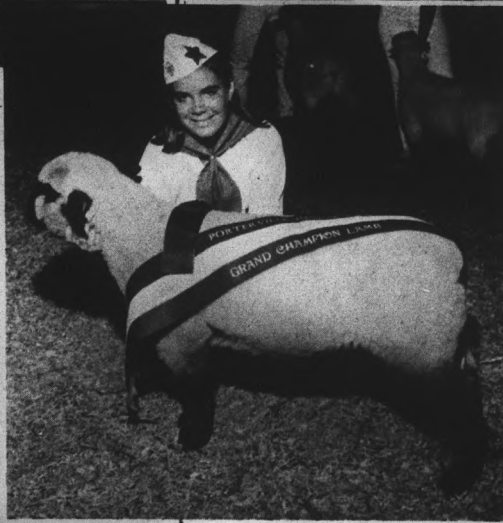

ONE TREND at the Fair - and The Farm Tribune is among the guilty parties - is for business firms to purchase booth space then turn it over to some youth organization. We have nothing against youth organizations, in fact we're all for them, but strong commercial exhibits by business firms would improve the fair considerably, and would also have a greater impact in so far as public relations is concerned ... Beckman Instruments, Southern California Gas company, Purina, Montgomery Ward, Jones Hardware, Sears, Valley Furniture, Southern California Edison company, Tule River Cooperative Gins, Southern Tulare County Citrus association - these are some of the exhibit types that we would like to see develop, rather than more and more organization exhibits ... Some business firms simply do not fit into a fair - these, we would say, might well continue to donate commercial exhibit space, but those businesses that can be adapted to a fair display might better go with a commercial exhibit - The Farm Tribune included.

TREND IN outdoor exhibits we like - more and more recreation-related displays. We keep saying that the entire ball-park area should be covered by a sportsmen's show; it can be done next year if selling is started early - say about today.

SPEAKING OF commercial exhibits, the Porterville Junior chamber of commerce handled sales, also program advertising - and a fine job this organization did ... Particularly Jerry Ward.

LIVESTOCK WAS again excellent ... And some of us are seeing 4-H and Future Farmer exhibitors coming along whose fathers and mothers we also saw coming along, and it looks to us like the kids are producing better livestock now than their parents did when they were kids, however, the high quality of Porterville Fair livestock has really never changed from that first fair on the high school grounds. It was tops then, it remains tops now. The real change probably is in different type, modern type animals, bred to meet changing market demands.

TWO FORMER junior exhibitors at the Porterville fair - Jim Martinez and John Trimmell, are now on the board of directors; there are four or five others who exhibited years ago as youngsters now working in key spots to produce the fair ... This is important, since if the Porterville fair is to continue as a community event, operating on its own without aid of state funds, young people must move in, assume responsibility, and keep the fair pointed toward bigger and better years.

Editorial Comment

POOR CESAR

Two incidents took place last week—one in Fresno and one in New York City—that cast a curious reflection on the glorious "huelga" and boycott of California tables grapes by Cesar Chavez and his United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

In Fresno, Chavez' 20 year old son, Fernando, refused induction into the Army under the glare of television lights, claiming that he is a conscientious objector. "Because of my poverty, I have been denied my rights," he claimed. "All I want are the same rights that the son of a rich man gets."

On April 19, the New York Times featured a picture of a fashionably dressed Dolores Huerta, Chavez' chief lieutenant, conversing with her host George Plimpton of the best-seller "Paper Lion" fame, at a party in Plimpton's spectacular East River Drive duplex described by the Times as "The Place to Be."

"The Plimpton reception," the Times reported, "was the last part of a $25-a-person benefit" for "Cesar Chavez' striking grape pickers, a favorite cause of the New Left branch of New York society."

Articles glorifying Chavez and his lieutenants have been featured in such magazines as Look, Vogue and Ramparts. He may not have many followers among farm workers, but he's the darling of that strange breed of moneyed leftists who smile indulgently on every revolutionary cause.

So please, Cesar—and son of Cesar—spare us that poor mouth bit.

Let Federal Government Pay Welfare Costs

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman Bob Mathias has introduced legislation to provide for the Federal government to pay the entire cost of assistance to those people who have become eligible for welfare due to a recent Supreme Court decision which declared state residence requirements unconstitutional.

Before the Supreme Court decision, a person could not receive welfare assistance until he met a State residence requirement.

The Supreme Court, however, declared unconstitutional various state statutes requiring a period of residence within the state before a person becomes eligible for public assistance under titles I, IV, X, XIV, and XVI of the Social Security act.

A person can now receive welfare assistance without meeting any residence requirements. In theory, a person could receive assistance after having lived in a state for only one day.

Mathias said, "The enforcement of this decision and its application to California and the other 49 states will impose an unreasonable financial burden on each state and local government."

"If the Federal government is going to enforce this Court decision, then the Federal government should pay the additional costs. Our state and local governments have enough financial problems without being saddled with additional welfare payments."

ALABAMA HILLS RECREATION AREA DEDICATION MAY 24

LONE PINE - The 30,000 acre Alabama Hills Recreation lands will be dedicated Saturday, with a full-scale celebration planned at Lone Pine.

Official ceremony is set for 1 p.m. in the Alabama Hills area, followed by a Western Pit barbecue. Planned also for the day is a jet fly-over, Indian dances and exhibits, an art show, square dancing, and a western street dance.

The historic Alabama Hills area is being developed by the Bureau of Land Management to provide greater facilities for outdoor recreation use.

Shelton, medical director of Porterville State hospital received telephone notification from Congressman Bob Mathias recently that the hospital's application was approved for a $98,235 Mental Health Hospital Improvement grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Barley harvest is getting underway in the San Joaquin valley.

SQUAW LEAP AREA TO BE DEVELOPED

FOLSOM - An agreement, between the U.S. Bureau of Land Management and the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, signed this week, provides the basis for the recreational development of the Squaw Leap management area at the upper end of Millerton lake in eastern Fresno county.

The agreement was announced by J.R. Penny, California State director of the BLM, and Robert J. Pafford, Regional director, Region 2 of the Bureau of Reclamation.

Under the terms of the agreement, the BLM will assume management of approximately 1,200 acres which had been withdrawn or acquired by the Bureau of Reclamation in connection with the construction of Millerton lake and Friant dam.

This land, plus an adjoining 2,200 acres of public domain land currently managed by the Folsom district, will be combined to join the Squaw Leap management area. It is approximately 45 miles northeast of Fresno, reached via Smalley County road to the Kerckaff Power house.

CALIFORNIA SPEAKS

A. BOYD HINDS, natl. dir. Boys Clubs of America, at S.F. convention — "A boy's life must be filled with activity; when he can't find recreation and companionship off the streets, he may easily turn to ways which lead to criminal tendencies."

DR. MARSHALL GILULA, Stanford psychiatrist — "Prolonged exposure of children to violence as an acceptable way to vent frustration may result in permanent character changes, such as increased aggressiveness."

LAWRENCE LOWREY, L.A. — "We cannot continue to defile our streams, pollute our air and risk annihilation through nuclear buildups without at the same time destroying the very foundations of our civilization."

Breakfast-at-school programs are being tried out across the nation to reach low income children. Children are served orange juice, milk and cereal; 2,090 schools are involved.

Thirty-third annual observance of June Is Dairy Month is coming up in June - and also commemoration of 200 years of dairying in California.

For 2¢ we'll do the dishes.

Birthday parties are loads of fun. But cleaning up afterwards is no party, right? Loads of fun means loads of dishes.

Relax. For two cents we'll do the dishes. Two cents worth of electricity is all it takes to run a load through the dishwasher.

Then there's the carpet. For a fraction of a cent, electricity will do the vacuuming.

Incidentally, it won't even cost you two cents to bake a birthday cake in your electric oven.

No matter how you use it, electricity does so much for so little.

In fact, electricity in Edison areas costs the average family less today per kilowatt-hour than it did 10...20...even 30 years ago.

Practically everyone today is using much more electricity—more kilowatt-hours—than ever before, and it's still one of your biggest bargains.

Maybe that's why we get invited to so many parties.
